THE WILSON TRAGEDY.

WHOLE WORLD HORRIFIED.

POLICE SEIZE SENSATIONAL DOCUMENTS.

LONDON, June 23.
The world is horrified at the assassination of Sir Henry Wilson. The French press most strongly denounces it as a base and cowardly crime. It emphasises Sir Henry's great part in the war, his firm friendship towards France and expresses the opinion that the murder will alienate sympathy for the Irish situation.

The German newspaper comments are mostly colourless but the Vossische Zeitung declares that this damnable attempt to destroy Anglo-Irish agreement will be frustrated by the determination of both peoples to live henceforth in peace with each other.

BELGIAN SYMPATHY.

BRUSSELS, June 23.
The King has telegraphed to King George expressing his indignation and sympathy at the murder of Sir Henry who had rendered such great services to the Allies' cause in the war. Their Belgian Majesties also sent messages of condolence to Lady Wilson.

O'BRIEN IDENTIFIED.

O'Brien who is charged with the murder of Sir Henry Wilson has been identified as a dockkeeper at the Labour Ministry until yesterday. He went to lunch at noon and did not return. Previously he was employed at the War Office. Both he and Connolly are ex-soldiers.

THE KING'S MESSAGE.

His Majesty has sent a letter to Lady Wilson voicing his inexpressible feelings of horror and grief at the appalling tragedy which has robbed the country of one of its most distinguished soldiers. He conveys his own and the Queen's heartfelt sympathy.

THE WARRIORS' REED.

The Pall Mall Gazette is officially informed that Sir Henry Wilson will be buried in Saint Paul.

CAMPAIGN OF OUTRAGE PLANNED.

All the men detained in the police raids last night have been released but a woman is detained. It is stated that the documents seized by the police are most sensational and disclose a conspiracy to assassinate prominent people and to conduct a campaign of outrage.

SUSPECTS DETAINED.

LATER.
It is now announced that the seventeen men and one woman detained by the police have not yet been released.

OIL PROFITS.

LONDON, June 23.
The Mexican Eagle Oil Trading Co. made a profit for the second six months of 1921 Mex. Gold $268,000. It has paid a dividend for the period of fifteen per cent. and carried forward $168,000. The profit is a considerable decrease compared with the corresponding six months of 1920.

PORTUGUESE EX PREMIER DEPORTED.

LISBON, June 23.
The Ex Premier Senhor Pinto has been deported to the Azores.

DAVIS CUP.

AUSTRALIA IN SECOND ROUND.

LONDON, June 23.
At Scarborough in the Davis Cup Anderson and Charnwood beat Washburn and Watson 6/1, 6/2, 4/6, 7/9, 7/5. The Australians thus qualify to meet Czechoslovakia in the second round.

NEW BRITISH LOAN.

LONDON, June 23.
Underwriting is proceeding for £5,000,000 Underground Electric Railways in London in 4 1/2 per cent debentures at 94 redeemable in 1942 and 1972. Interest is guaranteed by the government.

GOMPER'S STILL HEADS AMERICAN LABOUR.

CINCINNATI, June 23.
Mr. Samuel Gompers was to-day re-elected President of the American Federation of Labour. This makes his third first election to that office.

IRISH NEWS.

ELECTIONS AND LATEST MURDERS.

LONDON, June 23.
Collier and Bentley had been arrested for the murder of three men in the south of England. A man had been killed in Killybeggs in County Antrim.

U.S. MINERS WAR.

STRIKE BREAKERS SHOT IN GOLD-BLOOD.

INHUMAN SCENES.

HEBEN, ILLINOIS, June 23.
A wounded miner says he saw fifteen bodies with stones tied round their necks thrown into a pond. Checking the death roll is almost impossible as most of the victims were imported strike breakers. Miners assert there will be further trouble if the attempt to re-open the mines is renewed. Wounded men in the hospitals state that not a single non-union mine worker was injured in the fighting but that they were shot down in cold blood after surrendering. The bitterness of feeling is exemplified by the terrible sights after the conflict. Six wounded strike breakers at one point were lying in the open under a scorching sun with hundreds of men and women laughing at their appeals for water. The authorities now control the situation.

GOLF AT SANDWICH.

FINE DISPLAY BY DUNCAN.

LONDON, June 23.
At Sandwich in the British open golf championship the best stroke aggregate for the four rounds was won by Walter Hagen (America) with 300. The Britisher Duncan after a most mighty effort in which he broke the course record was bracketed second with the American Jim Barnes for 301. The American Hutchinson the holder, was third with 302.

Taylor was sixth with 304, Mitchell nineteenth with 312 and Kirkwood twenty second with 315. Hagen's play was characterized as superb. His putting, starting moderately, improved in a crescendo of brilliance and attracted a huge crowd who, despite their disappointment at the foreigners' success, enthusiastically congratulated him. Duncan's display, however, was a miracle of golf. His final round in sixties was recognised as the finest performance in championship history.

COUNTRY CRICKET.

LONDON, June 23.
Playing at the Oval against Cambridge University, Surrey won on the first innings. Sandham contributed 195 to Surrey's score in the first innings and the Cantabrian's skipper (Hubert Ashton) made 117 and later 59. Nottinghamshire, at Nottingham, beat Middlesex by 93 runs. For the home team Payton made 80 and 68. Lancashire had a ten wicket victory over Essex at Colchester, Hailows, for the winners, making 154 in the first innings.

Gloucestershire defeated Sussex at Hoveham by 137 runs, Dipper (for the victors) making 117 and 103.

Leicestershire won on the first innings playing against Somerset at Leicester. In the home team's first innings Col scored 123.

Northamptonshire beat Kent at Northampton by 154 runs. For the winning team Mordin in the second innings took seven wickets for 44.

BRITISH DYE INDUSTRY.

IMPORTANT NEGOTIATIONS PROCEEDING.

LONDON, June 23.
Presiding at the annual meeting of the British Dye Stuffs Corporation Sir William Alexander stated that negotiations were proceeding with the Government and colour users which might have an important bearing on the future of the dye industry. Informal discussions had been held between representatives of the German dye industry and the corporation with a view to a satisfactory working arrangement which would leave inviolate the principle on which the corporation was founded but hitherto the Germans were unprepared to accept the fundamental principle laid down as a basis of close negotiations.

BRITISH NATIONALITY ACTS.

PROPOSALS OF NEW AMENDMENT.

LONDON, June 23.
A Bill has been introduced by Mr. Short in the House of Commons extending the British Nationality Acts. It proposes that children born abroad of a British father will be British subjects if the birth is registered at the British Consulate and the child on attaining majority acquires British nationality by a declaration of intent.

THE HOT F.O.D. MAN.

A SHANGHAI STREET-INDUSTRY.

Cynthia Maguire writes in the Shanghai Gazette:

There are plenty of them, but this particular man I see every morning. He is a nice smiling soul and he gives me a greeting on days when trade has gone well with him. We have a sort of tacit understanding as to which are the good days and which the bad, and on the bad days we say nothing.

He sells rice, and long crisp brown "cakes," and meat dainties and macaroni. The noodles lie in great heaps on one particular part of his stall and he arranges them lovingly with his hands from time to time.

Small chow-tows are provided for customers, and there are chopsticks galore, which stand in a jar of water and are replaced after the hungry one has finished his meal. Extra washing would be superfluous.

Other bowls contain succulent trifles such as cabbage "au jus," bamboo shoots, pork dumplings and other dainties.

A wondrous collection of people flock to the stall, coolies from neighbouring houses, shop-men, rich-pullers, and children of all shapes and sizes. Amahs set their little charges to play at the roadside while they linger over a chow-bowl, mothers administer dainties with their own chopsticks to a babe in arms, small brothers help small sisters to a bite.

I saw a little group one day which would have made a picture as delightful as any child-artist ever attempted.

A little boy of six years old or so had brought a brother some three years younger and they shared a bowl. The elder one had the chopsticks and administered rice or cabbage to the younger from time to time. When he got too intent on his own chow and forgot the small brother the baby put his little nose into the bowl and lapped! It was a delicious sight. No fuss was made, the infant just took his share!

That stall is a great spot for gossip. From morning to night, small groups

CHAMBERLAIN'S PAIN BALM.

A touch of rheumatism, or a twinge of neuralgia, whatever the trouble is, Chamberlain's Pain Balm drives away the pain at once and cures the complaint quickly. First application gives relief. When a bottle of it is kept in the house the pain of burns and scalds may be promptly relieved, cuts and bruises quickly healed and swellings promptly reduced. In fact, for the household it is just such an embrochure as every family should be provided with. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REPORT.

POLITICAL SITUATION'S EFFECT.

The Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce fortnightly report states:—Cotton Piece Goods and Fancy Cotton Goods.—Our market continues quiet, but there is a better feeling in view of a probable settlement of political affairs between Canton and Peking.

Cotton Yarn.—During the interval a good business has been transacted. Price having ruled irregular, at a fluctuation of $1. The conflict between the two opposing parties in Canton has naturally stopped business for that market and consequently there are no shipments to that port.

Quotations are:—No. 10s. $154/182. No. 12s. $166/184. No. 16s. $194/222. No. 20s. $198/222.

Arrivals 100. Shipments nil. Sales 5,850 bales.

Unsold stock 5,000 bales. Bargains 11,000 bales.

Woolens.—Business is almost at a standstill and until the political situation in Canton is settled dealers will not show the slightest interest in any of the lines.

Raw cottons.—No Stocks, and nominal quotations Indian description at $28/36. Chinese Staple $34/42 per picul.

Metals.—Nothing to report. Business is at a standstill.

Flour market report. Stock: About 1,300,000 sacks. Quotations: American Patent $3.75 per sack, American Straight $2.65 per sack, American Cut off $2.70 per sack, Shanghai Flour $2.85 per sack, Australian No. 1 $2.70 per sack.

Window Glass.—Market weak.

Sugar.—Market steady.

and bigger ones collect there to exchange the news of the day; first the food is disposed of and then the talk begins. We are the losers because we cannot understand a great deal of it, but what we do catch we enjoy. People are discussed—our friends, may be, if the orator is an amah, or a houseboy—lottery slips are handed out, and a man or two discusses news from the warzone. More often the talk is confined to matters nearer home.

Not infrequently amahs produce camp-stools and settle as if for life, the men-folk pulling at long pipes the while.

On these days my friend the hot-food man is happy.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

A Chinese living at 10 Nathan Road has reported to the Police that last night a watch and some small articles of jewellery of a total value of $70 were stolen from his house.

A Chinese boatman was fined $2 by Commander C. W. Beckwith at the Marine Court this morning for carrying twelve passengers in excess of the number allowed by his licence.

On inquiry at the Government Civil Hospital this morning it was learned that Mr. A.E. Wright, of the P.W.D., who was admitted some time ago suffering from an attack of fever, is progressing slowly.

As a Chinese woman living in Temple Street Yau-mat was riding in a ricksha in company with a man last night between Jordan and Austin Roads Kowloon, she was stopped by three men. One of them threatened her with a knife and attempted to cut a bangie composed of six half-sovereigns from her wrist. Failing in this he pulled the ornament off. In the meantime the other two men proceeded to rob her companion from whom they took a watch and money to the value of $74.

WANTED A HAT.

BUT GOT FOUR WEEKS.

Yiu Wai is a very valuable fitter's coolie just now serving a sentence of four weeks' imprisonment awarded him by Mr. R. E. Lindell this morning. Yiu Wai has a taste for sun helmets and chose quite a good one from the submarine L20 lying inside the cambur. Unfortunately the hat was several sizes too big for him. Suspicious were aroused and he was arrested. He vigorously protested his innocence saying he had taken the hat in mistake. "Put it on" ordered the Magistrate. Yiu Wai did so and his head almost disappeared. Still he did not give up hopes and blandly informed the Court that his own hat was also too big. Probing deeper the Magistrate found that Yiu Wai had no right to be on the submarine.

Telling the defendant that he did not believe him, the Magistrate passed the sentence stated above.

A robbery occurred at 8, Cheung Sing Street last night, a woman being robbed of jewellery worth $150 and a similar amount in money.

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

THE FROLIC OF THE TOYS.

"Why hasn't my ball got legs Mother?" little Tommy asked one day.

"Because it was made without," she answered and then, as he wanted to know what it was made of and how and where she had to tell him ever so much and he forgot all about his question.

That night however when the house was quiet and most people fast asleep Tommy was awakened by a jumping noise in the nursery. The nursery door was ajar and Tommy, who slept in the next room, slipped out of bed and peeped round the corner. And there was his rubber ball springing up and down so high that it touched the ceiling every time and—yes—it actually had thin little arms and legs and a cheery smile on its round face.

"Hallo Tommy," it cried as it bounced on to the floor and caught sight of him. "What are you doing here at this time of night?"

"I might ask you the same question," retorted Tommy. "How is it that you have legs and arms now and not in the day-time?"

"Why don't you know," replied the ball in a surprised voice. "Toys must be able to jump about and enjoy themselves at night. So many of them are not touched for days and sometimes for weeks and they would grow too stiff and old to be of any use to anybody and so, when everyone is asleep, the moon sends down a bright ray through the window which stirs them up and turns them into Toys People and then they all have a good time."

"But where are the others then?" asked Tommy looking all round as there was no sign of anyone.

"Listen," whispered the ball, holding up one tiny finger and speaking in a hushed voice and in the silence Tommy heard yawning going on all round in the cupboard, under the table (where two or three things lay) and up on the bookshelf. Then it sounded as if a lot of little people were stretching and getting up and the next minute the cupboard doors flew open and a shuffling and rattling and tin whistle scrambled out from under the table. Down sprang all the books, "Peter Rabbit" and "Mrs. Tiggywinkle" and "Flap and Furry" and all the others and they began racing about and dancing wildly.

Tommy felt his one hand seized by the rubber ball and his other by a cricket bat and they jumped him up and down to the ceiling till he cried out to them to stop. They did not seem to hear him but on they went as if they would never tire until—crack—Tommy's head went against the ceiling!

The next thing that Tommy knew was that his mother was bending over him as he lay in bed.

"Never mind Sonny," she was saying. "You must have just bumped your head against the top of the bed. It's all right now. Go to sleep again dear."

PETER PAN.

SOMETHING ABOUT RUBBER BALLS.

I daresay some of you have asked your mothers where your rubber balls came from and how they were made, just as Tommy did, but in... you do not know here is a little bit about them.

The rubber out of which your ball is made probably came from South America or perhaps from the west coast of Africa or the Malay States, where the rubber tree grows. These trees contain a juice called latex which is hidden in little vessels between the outer bark and the wood and in leaves and sometimes in the roots and bolls.

The tree is "tapped" that is to say deep holes are cut in the wood when the milky juice runs out and it is caught in cups which are fastened to the tree by bits of clay. All these cups are emptied into a big pan. Then a flat piece of wood is dipped into the latex and held in the smoke of a fire and this is done over and over again until there are layers of dried rubber on the wood and then it is taken off in a solid lump and is ready for exporting (or sending out of the country).

Now we come to the way a ball is made. The rubber is cut into pieces with a knife and joined together by pressing on the edges but first a bit of pure rubber is stuck to the inside and a mark placed on the outside to show where it is. When the ball is closed it is vulcanised—that is to say it is put in an iron mould and sulphur is added to the soft rubber at a high temperature and this makes the rubber very hard.

Then it is blown up by a kind of bellows. The nozzle of the bellows is put in at the spot where the lump of rubber was placed and when it is taken out the hole closes up again.

You see what a lot of trouble has been taken in the making of one of your ordinary balls. I am afraid that some of them do not last long either because you all know that if you get a little hole in them they go out of shape and do not bounce, that is to say unless the inside is made of cork.

PETER PAN.

THE WISE TOAD.

When my nurse was bathing my brother one day I opened the door and crept softly away.

But I didn't get far for, right in my road, was A nasty fat thing which I knew was a toad.

He hopped first on one side and then he hopped back. His eyes were bright green and his coat down and black.

I said "Please Mr. Toad, will you let me get by?" At first he said nothing but that up one eye.

And some how I thought then he said "You go home, For mothers and nurses don't like boys to roam."

As I couldn't get by, back again I did trot, It was true what he said—Toads must know a lot!

PETER PAN.

When may a chair be said to dislike you? When it can't bear you.

CHURCH NOTES.

SECOND SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY.

To-morrow's Epistle is taken as it was last Sunday from the letters of St. John, the Apostle of Love. No one can speak with more authority than he can, John the beloved disciple, John who leaned on Jesus' breast, and to whose care the Blessed Virgin was committed. Before we can truly love our fellow man, the love of God must be firmly rooted in our hearts, as the Collect prays "make us to have a perpetual fear and love of Thy holy Name." How do we love His Name?—It is constantly in our hearts, do we love our heads reverently when it is said, is it the first cry from our lips when sorrow or temptation overwhelms us? When we have learnt the comfort and help which come whenever we call on His Name, when we have learnt that there is no need for more than just His name "Jesus" for His eyes to be turned upon us, for His hands to be stretched out to bless, then we shall long to pass on our joy and hope to all who need His love and shall love our fellow men as St. John bids us, "not only in word and tongue but in deed and in truth." "Marvel not that the world hate you"—"each man for himself" is the motive of the world, the exact opposite of true Christianity, of the last words of Jesus the night He was betrayed: "A new commandment I give unto you that ye love one another." St. John never forgets this love of Christ; it breathes through all his writings. Can we wonder that he says, "he that loveth not his brother abideth in death," when we think of him watching His Master, girded with a towel, washing the disciples' feet, becoming through love the servant of all?

'Excuses.' Just that word sums up the teaching of the Gospel. And they were quite good excuses too—as reasonable as those we often make. "If I work hard all the week can you expect me to get up early on Sunday?" It will do me more good to be out in the open air than sitting in a stuffy church. "My wife feels the heat too much; I must stay with her." And the words of Jesus are forgotten, "Do this in remembrance of Me," and sadly He looks on us who have been bidden so tenderly and says in the words of this Parable. "Come for all things are ready." Another point we notice is the abundance of the hospitality; even after the poor, the maimed, and the halt and the blind had been brought in, and yet there was still room for more, and so the homeless, hungry, ones, all who feel their need, become guests at the great feast. Lastly we read the terrible warning, that those who put worldly considerations first, will, when they find time for spiritual things, be too late, and their places at the feast will be filled, "For" says the Master of the house, "none of those men which were bidden shall taste of My Supper."

June 29th. is the feast of St. Peter, one of the greatest and most human of Christ's Apostles. His striking personality, his bold utterances and his great faith, as well as his weaknesses are all set forth in the Gospel and the Acts. A beautiful legend is related of him. Nero having decided that St. Peter should die, had him cast into prison, but the Christians by prayers and importunities begged Peter to make his escape. At first he refused, thinking the non-Christians would accuse him of cowardice, afraid to suffer, as he was constantly bidding others to do for the sake of Jesus. But at last the tears and prayer of his friends prevailed and he escaped over the prison walls. On arriving at the gate of the city he met Our Lord just entering. St. Peter asked Him, "Lord, whither art Thou going?" and the reply came, "I am come to Rome to be crucified a second time." St. Peter felt that this was a reproach and that Christ meant that He was to be crucified afresh in the person of His disciple so Peter went back and delivered himself into the hands of his enemies, asking one thing only, that as he was unworthy to be crucified in the same position as His Master, that he might be hung on his cross with his head downwards.

Yesterday, St. John Baptist's day, was the anniversary of our Bishop's consecration two years ago. It was kept by special memorials being made at places in the diocese where Holy Communion was celebrated. The thanksgivings and petitions were connected with religious work in this part of South China.

The Bishop of Durham, speaking at his Diocesan Conference said that money was the root of all kinds of evil, and that there is something spiritually lowering about concentrating the mind on money which is the curse of the modern church. It can not be retorted that it is easy to preach patience with poverty from a palace for the bishop himself to-day knows well enough the difficulty of making both ends meet. But the Wise Man accounts money, equally with wisdom, a defence and the debt of the Church no less than those of the individual Churchman must be honourably paid. The question is of raising the money. The Bishop deprecates the tiresome iteration of appeals, and the raising of funds for the Church by what drives and dances. He would have personal contributions regularly assessed, with earnest thoughtful teaching on the duty of giving.

The Mother's Union has made a wedding present to Princess Mary, a number of prominent members of the Union attending at the Palace for the purpose. Her Royal Highness accompanied by Viscount Lascelles, received the deputation in the Throne Room. The gift consisted of two splendid volumes of Natural History (for which the Princess had especially asked), illustrated in colour, and bound in blue morocco, gold tooled, with the Crown and 'M' on the covers. Also (in a white plush case with gold Crown and 'M') and an exquisite ivory etui, with gold fittings and the Crown and initial in diamonds. In addition to these gifts there was a cheque for £275 which Her Royal Highness will doubtless give to some work in connection with the Mother's Union.

Women are making headway not only in the place they are taking in politics, but also in the Church. Good women have always held a strong position in the Church, and they have ever been a sweet influence pervading religious life, but the present demands, both in America and England, that women should take the place of men in ministerial work, are very questionable. There is so much more now-days in such matters, that in February last the following resolution was passed in Convocation:—

"That in view of the Apostolic teaching that women equally with men are members of the one Body of Christ and partakers of the Holy Spirit, and in order that fuller use may be made in the Church's service of the gifts and experience of women, this House makes the following recommendation:—That under conditions laid down by the Bishop of the Diocese it should be permissible for women duly qualified and approved by him to speak and pray in consecrated buildings, but that such ministrations should be on occasions other than the regular and appointed service of the Church, and are intended normally for congregations of women and of children."

The Western Morning News made some caustic remarks on the question, as will be seen by the following excerpt:—"Does our present Bench of Bishops really wish to make the Church of England ridiculous in the eyes of Christendom?—In Convocation last week they summoned Dr. Ryle, the Prolocutor of the Lower House, in order solemnly to rebuke it for its amendment omitting the word 'normally' with regard to feminine harangues in church addressed to women and children. The Primate said the bishops 'could not accept the excision of the word' the retention of which will enable bishops so inclined to allow ladies on special occasions to address ordinary congregations from Church pulpits. The subject is postponed until next session, happily allowing the time for a return to episcopal sanity."

Exeter Diocese is represented in the National Assembly by the wife of one bishop and the eloquent widow of another, who cites Priscilla as a precedent for an extended feminine ministry. The addresses of these excellent ladies in the Chapter House, in parish halls, and to gathering of wives and mothers, may be productive of real good. But if every bishop is wedded to a fluent wife, the time may come when an army of 88 "Mrs. Primitives" will be storming the pulpits of all the English cathedrals. It is fortunate that we possess deans like Dr. Gamble ready to protect their pulpits from intruders, and the clergy from secret persecution by automatic bishops of the future."

SHANGHAI WEDDING.

SCARBOROUGH-YOUNG.

Mr. T. W. Scarborough, of 8 Yuan-Ming-Yuen Road, Shanghai, was married on June 17 to Miss Norah Young, the ceremony taking place at Holy Trinity Cathedral, at 3 p.m., Dean Symonds officiating.

The bride, who was given away by Mr. W. M. Weston, wore white brocade silk, elaborately trimmed with net frills, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and carnations. Her veil was caught with a wreath of silver leaves. The bridesmaids, Miss Emily Marshall Weston and Miss Barbara Cooke, wore lavender organdy and silver caps with streamers, and carried sweet peas.

As this was a "Police Wedding," a guard of honour from the Reserve Police was in attendance. The reception, held after the ceremony in Mr. Scarborough's house at 8 Yuan-Ming-Yuen Road, was attended by a large number of friends. Mr. A. McLure was best man.

At the civil ceremony, held at H. M. Consulate-General, at 10.30 in the morning, the bride wore blue organdy and a grey ribbon hat.

COMEDY AT THE CORONET.

A WEEK OF FUN.

The old gag about variety being the spice of life applies just as strongly to the picture show business as to anything else. That is why, having amazed Hongkong picture-goers all this week with the stupendous realism of a serious drama like "Man-Woman-Marriage," the Coronet management are striking out in an entirely different direction next Monday with a week's programme of abundant mirth and rollicking humour.

Three first-rank comedies, each one a gem of its own particular type will comprise the bill which fittingly, is headed by the first comedian in film-dom—the inimitable Charlie Chaplin himself. "Pay Day," the picture in which he will be seen in Monday, is pure Chaplin. Like its predecessors it contains plenty of hilarious slapstick comedy, combined with a neat little human story of how to earn and how to spend money. There is only one thing wrong with the film, and that is that there are only two parts to it instead of twelve. The earlier scenes are a screaming travesty of a canny methods and exhibit all those famous characteristics which humorous writers delight in attributing to the British workman. For Charlie figures as a bricklayer, a horny-handed son of toil, and his antics in abstracting money from his wife by alternate sleight of hand and bluff are richly comic. So are the scenes in the working man's club.

Harold Lloyd and Larry Semon are the other two members of this notable triumvirate. In "Never Weaken" the former performs more of the droll antics that have made him his name in a picture overflaming with merriment while "Between the Scenes" furnishes quaint little Larry Semon with one of his biggest achievements in the art of clever fooling. As indicated, this all-comely programme begins at the Coronet on Monday and the prices charged for seeing it are to be the same as for "The Kid."

FATHER'S HUNT FOR ELOPING GIRL.

A story of real life, which reads more like a film plot, is disclosed by a warning letter issued to all marriage registrars by the Registrar-General,
 Somerset House.

Unknown to her parents, a girl from a Belgian convent came to England with her fiancé, a wealthy English merchant, at the beginning of the week to get married.

once to Newcastle, to visit the only address he knew of the young man's relatives, hoping there to gain some news. From there to the Midlands and back to London his search proved fruitless, and finally he sought the help of the Registrar-General, who has now formulated all the register offices with a letter, authorizing them to withhold their certificates should one be applied for by either of the parties, and to notify him immediately.

The Public Works Department has reported to the Police that there have been several small landings on the road to Castle Park and that the area between Long Kim and Tuen
 Lung has been frequented by persons.
